NEW & ORIGINAL SERIAL STORY TROM THE PEN OF RIDER HAGGARD. Author of "King Sclomon's Mines," "Allan

Quartermain," "She," "Jess," &c., &c. The Proprietors of this Journal are pleased to announce that they have, at a very considerable outlay, made arrangements with H. RIDER HAGGARD—the Author of the most popular and dramatic Stories of our day-by which their Readers will enjoy precedent perusal of a new and unpublished manuscript Story from his pen.

The Title of RIDER HAGGARD S New Story is COLONEL QUARITCH, V.C. And the Opening Chapters appeared in THE "HONGKONG DAILY PRESS'

OF SATURDAY, 21ST JULY. In this dramatic work, the author of "She makes a new departure. Instead of placing his characters in lands remote from civilization and subjecting them to influences, of the most re-Cent Coupons and REDUCED TICKETS at the markable and unprecedented nature, he has here written an English tressure story of the present day. The here is a soldier in the British army, a wearer of the Victoria Cross, who returns home from the recent operations in the Soudan, to exchange the perils and privations of warfare in the desert for a series of sensational incidents among pleasant English landscapes, and the ultimate reward of an ancestral home brightened by the beauty of a comely bride. The plot is well contrived, there is strong individualisation in the characters; the scenes are depicted with THE TWENTY-SECOND ORDINARY in steamer lying in the Harbour or coming cleanness and a warm glow of local colour, while MEETING of SHAR SHOLDERS in alchgaide the Kowloon Wharf on application to the main incidents are worked out with power. Not even in "King Solomou's Mines," when entrance is effected into the mysterious chamber, is the thrill greater than when Colonel Quaritch 1183 unearths the treasure, hidden away from Cromwell's soldiers, the recovery of which saves an ancient house from ruin. He told a coolie to take him into the godown and he pointed the matches out to him They were all mixed up together. He pointed out o the coolie the particular mark which he wanted to take delivery of. He said "You tell the Wing Yi On man to come and take delivery." Witness then left and took the delivery order back to his master. He did not say anything about the quaity of the matches. He never said they were had and that therefore he would not take them. When he showed the delivery order to Ho Tsam he told sim that he had the $200. He Tsam told him tell the Wing Yi On man (Ng Lai Kok) to come and take delivery. The matches were all mixed

This concluded the evidence. Mr. Wilkinson contended that his client was entitled to notice prior to the sale of these goods. and secondly that if the notice was given he was entitled to fresh notice. The sale was fixed for the 16th July, and for some reason or other did not take place on that day. Consequently it was waived and his client should have received notice of the future sale. Ho Tsam said that the sale was postponed in consequence of the letters re seived from his client. Mr. Musso said that he did not remember anything of that, but Ho Team distinctly said that he told Musso the purport of these letters. Taking the evidence on the plaintiff's side alone he thought it was clear that Musso knew that his client had sold these goods already. Ng Lai Kok had stated that the whole of his dealings were with Ho Tsam. His Lordship had somewhat! by Ho Tsam and the rent of the goods deposited was payable to him. COLLISION.—THE NORDEN (8.) p. H.M.S.

(Present-Lord Macnaghten, Sir Barnes Peasock, Sir James Hannen, and Sir Richard Couch, July 21.) This was an appeal from a judgment of Sir

George Phillippo, judge of the Vice-Admiralty Court of Hongkong, Feb. 3, 1887, in cross-suits instituted by the owner of the steamship Norden the appellant) and Lieutenant Adams, R.N., commanding Her Majesty's ship Espoir, respectively, to recover damages for a collision which occurred between those vessels on the evening of Nov. 3, 1886, in the Canton river. The learned adge, who was assisted by Captain Thomsett, R.N., as assessor, pronounced the Norden alone to blame for the collision and decreed accordingly. Sir Walter Phillimore, Q.C., and Mr. H. Stokes were counsel for the appellant : Sir J. P. Deans, Q.C., Mr. Staveley Hill, Q.C., and Mr.

tenced to six months' imprisonment with hard ships'-judgment, said the Danish steamship Norden was on Nov. 3, 1886, on a voyage down the Canton river. It was alleged on her behalf that about six p.m. she was seven or eight miles above Tiger Island, well over her starboard side of the channel, going about nineand-a-half knots, steering S.S.E. 2 E. by compass. At about half-past six o'clock the masthead light of a steamer, which turned out to be Her Majesty's ship Espoon, was sighted nearly right ahead about a quarter or half point on the port bow, about three miles listant. A few minutes later the red light of the Espair came in sight about one-and-a-half point on the port bow. On that red light being seen the course of the Norlen was altered about one-and-a-half point to starboard to give the Espoir a wider berth, and the Norden was shortly after steadied on her former course. When the vessels had approached to about 500 yards, the Bepoir being broad on the Norden's bow, the Espoir suddonly starboarded her helm and bore down as if to cross the Norden's bows. A collision then boing inevitable, the helm of the Norden was put hard a-port to lessen the shock. On the same subject the following appears in the Insurance Agent: On the eve of the parliamentary session it is well to call attention to this important subject, and argo the immediate appointment of fire coroners. There is a general complaint among fire offices that incendiary-fires are of constant occurrence; but the companies, even in those cases, pay, because absolute proof is difficult, and they are afraid of becoming known as litigious. It is hard that this state of things should exist; but the offices to a great extent recomp their losses by additional premiums. matter of really vital importance. Unfortunately exact statistics are wanting, but the general opinion among those best informed is that incondiarism is practised to an alarming extent. The case of Whiteley naturally presents itself to the mind. His magnificent buildings and his enormous stock have been destroyed four or five times, and the impression is that in each case the hand of the incendiary has fired the premises And yet there was no inquest on these calamitous burnings until the last occasion, andeven then the to the cause of the death of four men who were killed by the falling of a wall. The neglect which produces and perpetuates such a state ofthings, and in particular the apathy of Parliament, are wonderful. It is difficult to measure the wickedness of those who wilfully set property on fire, it is equally difficult to understand how society reconciles itself to the enormous waste caused in this way. It is stated from New York that the fire marshal of that city elegely examines. into the causes of all fires within his jurisdiction, and that few now dare to commit arson in view of his severe scrutiny. If we had a similar functionary in every city and town throughout the United Kingdom, it is quite certain that we should have fewer fires, and would have to pay lower premiums for our insurance. At present we defraud ourselves, we allow the waste of much property, and by carelessness we invite serious crime in our midst. The question of fire corenerships will soon be again tested in a practical manner. In the ensuing session the Corporation of the City of London will bring in a bill the object of which will be to confer on the city coroner power to hold inquests into the origin of all fires within the city boundaries. We urge the fire insurance companies to rally to the support of a measure so pregnant with good both for themselves and the public generally.

In a general article on Marine Insurance the Shipping Garctic says:-" The China companies have made a considerable effort to work without anything like an adequate reserve fund, and the result is that many of them have got into difficulties. The Chinese Insurance Company is in liquidation. The Yangtsze is not in position to pay any bonuses just at present, and all the other Chinese companies have almost without exception been compelled materially to limit their distributions of bonness. They have tried what could be done by "outling rates," and the results have certainly not been satisfactory. It is very easy to underbid trade rivals in any given department of business, but it is very difficult indeed to make the operation a permanent success. The truth is that the longer the Chinese companies porsist in their present attitude of hostility against all the old-established markets, and in their policy of cutting down rates, the more impossible will it be for them to live. Business in Shanghai, and in the other great Chinese ports, is alway pretty brisk; but the Chinese companie ought to remember that from time immemorial there has been considerable scarcity of money in these ports. | Some time ago wo heard that foreigners in Shunghai were cutting down their expenses to the lowest degree of re tranchment. Some of them have turned to liv ang in Chinese houses with their Chinese wive in order to save themselves the trouble of house keeping, so that they may be able to live frugally for about $50 a month. The natives feel the present depression of trade very severely. merchant in Shanghai says that be had to buy some time ago, an article for $8, for which had two days previously offered $10. The year dor then declared that he would not take le than $12, and the same gentleman purchase goods from a furniture dealer for $20 one da which he was asked $100 for a week previous Houses are to be let in all directions, and altogether the state of business is bad. If this be the condition of affairs in Shanghai, which is the principal commercial port of China, it is quite obvious that the state of affairs cannot be much better elsewhere, and it is upon the state of business that the profits of insurance companies in the last resort depend The experience of the China companies have been so unpleasant that the question has, we fluidity imagine, been set to rest for ever. This much, Direction of wind ... however, is quite clear, that something of the Force of wind ...... difficulty is which the China companies find Weather ...... themselves involved is due to an over eager Rain ...... haste on their part to secure business which is done far better here. In the insurance world, as in every other, the policy of cutting down rates is a policy which, sooner or later, brings its own punishment upon those who resort to it. We are not surprised that in the case of the TAR LAWRENCE is now in Hongkong. Yangtaze a considerable expression of feeling IVI and may be CONSULTED at the took place, and that one of the shareholders HONGKONG HOTEL (Room No. 20) daily dwelt upon a recent failure of a large firm from 8 A.M. to 6 P.M. of marine brokers in Glasgow, as showing instead of accepting risks at rainous rates. The adapted to the Sight. difficulty is that the liabilities incurred by the companies at home and abroad are of such a character that it is almost impossible for either were made to induce both praties to the struggle no hesitation in saying that, those supplied to see that in marine insurance, as in every other branch of human energy, there is a golden mean which ought to be observed, and if it is not observed the breach of that observance will bring with it its own punishment. It is not very long ago that the China companies were supposed to be making fortunes for their shareholders. It

POST-OFFICE NOTICES.

When Correspondence has been mis-sent or delayed (both of which are liable to happen occasionally) all that the addressee need do is to note on the cover, Sent to ____, or Received at 7 p.m., or as the case may be, and forward it, without any other writing whatever, to the Postmaster-General. This should be seted on the first time cause of complaint occurs; it is a mistake to let such matters pass for fear of giving trouble, a course which generally gives more trouble in the end.

The Postal Guide for 1887, revised to date will be found in the Daily Press Directory, p. 385 large edition, p. 701 small edition. This is the only authorised complete Summary of Postal information published in Hongkong.

ABOUT ART. Edward Cossey drove from the Castle in a far from happy frame of mind. To begin with, the business irritated him very much so much that trading in money and money's worth, which was the more galling because it was founded on actualfact, and Edward Cossey knew it. All his have been impossible for any man of discernment to entertain a comparison between the half character-love of country and his country's honour, respect for the religion of his fathers. he lived in other times probably like some of the old Boisseys who were at Honham before him he would have died in the Crusades or at Cressy. or perhaps more uselessly for his king at Marston Moor, or like that last but one of the true de la Molles, kneeling in the courtyard of his consequence, dying out of an ege which is unwith the old war ory of "a Delamol-a Delamol" era of political economy and bi-metallism?
